

I married Karen while I was going to Purdue. It helped because she had a regular full-time job. The problem was, she became pregnant. Well, I had to get a real job myself. So I started working for National Starch & Chemical as a lab technician. We decided to buy a new car to replace her '60 Corvair. I had been reading most of the car magazines of the day and thought myself to be familiar with the subject of muscle cars. We happened to go to the Indy Auto Show and when I saw the newly-remodeled GTX for 1968, I knew I was destined to own one. A few months later, I went up to Northside Chrysler-Plymouth and ordered one. 4-speed? Of course! Traction package? You bet! Interior upgrade? Why not! Vinyl Roof? Yeah! Six weeks later the car was ready.

I had to get my brother to go with me because I couldn't legally drive it. I thought the salesman's jaw was going to hit the floor when he handed me the keys, I said to give them to my brother because I didn't have a license. Ah! Life's little memorable moments, we never know where they are going to come from. The insurance company thought it so odd they sent an investigator around, twice, to ask if anyone had ever seen me driving the car. They thought I was lying about not driving the car so I could get a better rate by having my wife as the only driver. I mean, a guy who orders a hot, 440, 4-speed muscle car and claims he doesn't drive it because he doesn't have a drivers license?! To say they were skeptical was an understatement.

I did get my license about six weeks after this photo was taken. The guy at the license branch was taken aback when he found out he was going to be in a "monster" of a car (his actual words, by the way) to give me the over-the-road driving test. He thought I was pretty gutsy bringing a car like that. He said usually people brought very sedate small cars with automatic transmissions to take their test in. He also noticed that it was strong in the acceleration department - oh yeah! I passed but he told me I should work on parallel parking a bit more. Anyone that knows me knows I can't park. I just never had much skill in going backwards!

I loved that car. Even now, about once a year I will have a dream about it. I wake up and have to remind myself that I traded that car off years ago. It must be voodoo. There is something primeval about the feeling you get when you unleash a big block car. I may be getting old but the feeling is still there as fresh as it was 40 years past. I only owned the car for a year and a half. It was just too costly to drive - the way I drove it. The 440 is an incessant gas guzzler. I had to use Sunoco 260 in it. Otherwise, it would diesel-on forever. So, I traded it for a more economical Lemon Twist '70 340 Duster. The GTX was not a practical car for me at the time but some things you just have to do. Like the new Challenger SRT. I'm feeling "that old voodoo" again. Now, what color should I get....?

From Larry Mayes: The Cruise in Somerset KY is the 4th Saturday of each month. The MOPAR weekend is May 22, 2010. Hot Rod weekend is in July and is like a mini Power tour with groups starting from 3 or 4 different cities and head to Somerset, I've read up to 2,500 cars on this weekend. If anyone is up to a road trip this is one I have always wanted to do. It is about a 5 hour drive down. If I were to go, was thinking of cruising down on Friday night and getting a room and return on Sunday. So is there a group that would be up to a road trip and what month would you want to go? I think it starts in April till Oct. Here is a link to the official Cruise homepage. <http://www.somernitescruise.com/> There is also a web cam where you can view it from downtown Somerset. Don't remember where to link to it, buddy at work is from Somerset and told me about it. Comments from World of Wheels. I heard from several Indy HiWinders members on the club display and all thought we had the best and glad we won the prize money. Also they were telling me about the cruise in and show in August and would like to see some of the club cars there. They were really impressed with Jim Kelly's twin Savoy's Max Wedge cars and would like to have them there.

Tattler's Corner

A rough estimate of hours put in making the display for World of Wheels was 200. Now at $0.00 per hour the overall cost to the club was $0.00. Wonder if they hire out???? And what is this I hear about Ginger saying she worked the "Boulevard"???? Sometimes you hear the strangest things. Guess it's all in a day's work.

I would appreciate any news about our members that have attended other events and/or have had their cars or stories in other publications. A Little Bit of Humor

A woman was trying hard to get the ketchup out of the jar. During her struggle the phone rang so she asked her 4-year-old daughter to answer the phone. "Mommy can't come to the phone to talk to you right now. She's hitting the bottle."

While working for an organization that delivers lunches to elderly shut-ins, I used to take my 4-year-old daughter on my afternoon rounds. She was unfailingly intrigued by the various appliances of old age, particularly the canes, walkers and wheelchairs. One day I found her staring at a pair of false teeth soaking in a glass. As I braced myself for the inevitable barrage of questions, she merely turned and whispered, "The tooth fairy will never believe this!"

A little girl had just finished her first week of school. "I'm just wasting my time," she said to her mother. "I can't read, I can't write, and they won't let me talk!"

A little girl was watching her parents dress for a party. When she saw her dad donning his tuxedo, she warned, "Daddy, you shouldn't wear that suit." "And why not, darling?" "You know that it always gives you a headache the next morning."

A little boy got lost at the YMCA and found himself in the women's locker room. When he was spotted, everyone burst into shrieks, with ladies grabbing towels and running for cover. The little boy watched in amazement and then asked, "What's the matter, haven't you ever seen a little boy before?"
