My 1964 Plymouth Sport Fury

My current project is a 1964 Plymouth Sport Fury. I have replaced the suspension system front to rear using components from PST, right stuff from Mancin Racing Hellwig products, and Bob Vorpe.

The engine is a fairly strong 440 with internal upgrades exiting through 2 ½ exhaust system with Flow Master mufflers.

I have replaced the cooling system (Griffin aluminum radiator), ignition system from single points to a Mopar Performance system, fuel system utilizing a new Edelbrock 750cfm carburetor, high volume fuel pump, and fuel lines from Earl's – Indy.

Member Update

From Ken Scobel 1-25-13: Its been awhile since I've sent one of these out. Earlier this week I had my second epidural in my lower back to combat my leg pain due to Spinal Stenosis. My first was back in October and lasted about 2 months, hopefully this one will last longer. Now that the pain is virtually gone, I can resume going to the local Senior Center and working out. I've gained a few pounds due to inactivity, and I need to exercise to maintain my bone health.

My cancer continues to be under control, the latest blood test readings show my PSA is down to 0.6, a drastic decrease from my reading in June of 23! I saw the Oncologist last week and asked about the cancer possibly spreading to other areas of the body. He said periodic bone and CT scans will be used. I am scheduled for each of those in March. I also am scheduled for my next hormone injection next month.

The hardest thing I have had to do is attend numerous funerals over the past 4 months. My sister Janet lost her husband Andy last October due to heart failure. My daughter Kelly's boyfriend's father passed away due to stage 4 stomach cancer. A friend/member of the Mopar Club passed away due to a brain tumor. A high school classmate I was friends with on Facebook passed away from brain cancer. A fellow Cummins employee passed away early this month. And finally a friend in Ohio passed away from a brain aneurism. It's difficult to maintain a positive attitude when there is this much death around you. But I'm strong and don't let it bother me as much now. I rely on my doctors and their prognosis which is many more years of life, especially considering the new breakthroughs in medical technology.

I continue to feel well with no pain or discomfort from the cancer. Now that my leg pain is under control, I feel great! Even so, keep me in your prayers, they are definitely working.

Tattler's Corner

Well, guess who was shaking in their boots as they officiated as President at the first meeting of 2013 for the Indy Mopar Club. You couldn't see it but it was there. And do you want to guess who pulled it off without a hitch? She did a splendid job.
