The influence of cars
By Dave Watt

Dave's Red '73 340 Duster

Dave's Orange
'69 Road Runner 440 6BBL

As far back as kindergarten, I can remember being interested in Hot Wheels and other small cars. A few years later was drawing pictures of cars, usually during class instead of being attentive. My new friend Jim had a lot of drag racing photos and models of, Don "The Snake" Prudhomme, "Jungle" Jim Lieberman, Tom McEwen, etc. for us to draw pictures of. Jim's dad used to race in NHRA Stock Eliminator. He took us to the 1978 U.S. Nationals which was a thrill for an 11 year old; I was REALLY hooked on cars after that.

My dad had been working for Chrysler since 1965 but wasn't really a car guy, he and mom did travel to some of the Indy car, sprint and midget races as far away as Watkins Glen New York. He started attending the Indy 500 as a kid (by jumping the fence), and allowed me to attend my first 500 in 1979. Our family has a block of 30 seats which is a lot of fun sitting with family and friends. I haven't missed a race since. Around that time we had moved to New Castle.

By 17 years old I had been working about 30-35 hours a week at a fast food chicken restaurant, plus mowing a lot of grass, trimming shrubs, dog sitting, baby sitting, raking leaves, anything to make a buck. I had been saving a lot of money and was looking at many different cars. A black '55 Chevy was sitting in a back yard along I-70 in Indy that really caught my eye (even though I hadn't seen American Graffiti yet). Dad said no to the '55 and a '69 Super Bee 383 4-speed with a spun main bearing.

In June 1985, we went to Evansville, near my grandparent's house was a small used car lot where a red '73 340 Duster sat, just like the "One for the Money" ads in Hot Rod magazine. Dad said no but Mom was persistent the next few days, she and I went back on Tuesday to pick it up. We test drove it over to grandma and grandpa's; he was about half deaf and said, "Man, this thing is loud", that told me it was very loud. He and I went one square block which was enough for him.

Driving back to New Castle on I-70 just outside of Terre Haute, the engine threw a rod, instant initiation into the mechanics of an automobile. After 24 years of ownership, there isn't enough space to tell all the stories about my Duster; it's truly part of the family.

Shortly after buying the Duster, there was a Vitamin C orange 1969 440 6BBL Road Runner in town, skinny tires up front, big L-60's out back, just a killer stance. I vowed to buy it some day, but when it was for sale in '98, the timing wasn't right. By March of '99, Mike L. had left a message for me saying "your dream car is for sale in Hemmings but is in Canada". It was identical to the Road Runner in New Castle but is a 4-speed which was my preference. Mike and I picked it up in Toronto shortly after the purchase. It is the third A12 package Road Runner built by Chrysler, and the first in Vitamin C orange. After I did an extensive rotisserie restoration, it was ready for shows and muscle car drag races by July 2006. I enjoyed it the last few years but was ready to start a new project. There isn't enough room for another car, so the decision was to sell. What will be sitting in my garage next? Stay tuned.
